"Your mission has begun. Those are My words to you, My devotees. Each of you has a unique and valuable part to play in this lifetime. Only those whom I have called can serve Me. My Mission has now reached that point in time when each of you now has work to do. The multiplication of My Love will be felt throughout the world. I have prepared you for this work over many incarnations. I have drawn you to Me. My work is ceaseless and so your work, too, is without end. Be about My work, My beloved Bhaktas. Your breath will carry the scent of the blossoms of Heaven. Your example will be that of Angels. Your joy will be My Joy"

Dear Love and Light Readers

Sai Ram

By now you will all have heard the heartbreaking news that our beloved Swami vacated his earthly body on Easter Sunday morning. Whilst we were all hoping His Divine body would recover we nonetheless had been partly prepared for this sad event by the unfavourable medical bulletins of the previous 28 days. It would seem that Swami had gently prepared us to accept His will and thus spared us the even greater shock of a sudden departure from His physical form.

From the time He entered hospital there has been, and continues to be, a massive devotional reaction from devotees in the UK with prayers, bhajans, chanting etc. This was repeated across the globe and in some areas mass prayerful processions have taken place some involving adherents of various faiths including Muslims, Christians and Sikhs.

Swami's legacy in the fields of seva projects and spiritual transformation of His devotees is unique in human history. His loving gift of the National Pilgrimage last year now takes on greater significance.

For the last 70 years He has been guiding, teaching and inspiring us through His personal example and discourses. It is now our responsibility to put this guidance into practice and become living embodiments of His message which can be summed up in the following five sentences:-

Look behind - Thank God

Look ahead - Trust God

Look around - Serve God

Look within - See God

Look beyond - Be God

With Love in Sai Service
